By Angelique Noury
Port Mansfield, TX

Mayfield's campaign motto is "Not Black, Not White, Not American." Born to a single mother with little money in NewBrunswick, New Jersey, Mayfield grew up to own multiple small businesses, and is now running for New Jersey's 12th District seat, an opportunity that no one should pass up. Mayfield has an inclusive platform that includes conservative ideals in a press conference with the Princeton Summer Journal.

She advocates for policies that benefit all races and religions. Now, 21 years after her first political campaign, Mayfield has returns the call on her political goals.

Mayfield's campaign focuses on unity and breaking down barriers. She recognizes that unity is not just about race, but also about identity and personal beliefs. Mayfield aims to bring together people of all backgrounds, and to make sure that everyone feels included and valued.

In her campaign, Mayfield promotes education as a key issue. She emphasizes the importance of investing in education and supporting schools. Mayfield believes that education is the foundation of a strong community, and that every child deserves access to quality education. She is committed to ensuring that schools receive the resources they need to provide a quality education for all students.

Mayfield also emphasizes the importance of protecting the environment. She believes that we must take care of our planet and work towards sustainability. She supports policies that reduce pollution and promote renewable energy. Mayfield's platform includes clean energy initiatives, protecting natural resources, and promoting sustainable practices.

Mayfield's campaign vision is to build a strong, diverse, and inclusive community. With her unique plans and dedication, she is poised to make a meaningful impact on New Jersey's 12th District. As a leader who values unity and progress, Mayfield is a candidate who promises to make a positive difference in our community.

#TikTok is a short video platform for common consumers, and books are the evocative entertainment and educational tools that they can use to engage with. TikTok is a community amongst book influencers. “You have to find your own niche,” Sunny says. “It is [a] book creator’s responsibility to show the diversity of the algorithm.”

Sunny says, “It is [a] book creator’s responsibility to show the diversity of the algorithm. You have to find your own niche.”

The best way to find TikTok is to search on the platform for TikTok authors, booksellers, and creators. Books are the primary objects that TikTok has been around for centuries. When combined, these two elements create a multimedia platform named BookTok.

For influencers on the platform, these phenomenons began by discovering a community amongst the wide range of TikTok users. As a recreational professor, I’m not sure people can do it if they’re around where they’re at,” Sunny said. “I found [the characters] in a wide range from science fiction to love-and-angst romance. Some popular titles include It Ends With Us by Colleen Hoover, The Seven Husbands of Tiffany Jones by Tamika Bottoms, and Where the Crawdads Sing by Delia Owens. While BookTok is beneficial for many influencers, a recurring issue on the platform is the overabundance of TikTok books. Several book influencers have made recommendations, leaving room for new and emerging creators. Other popular books on BookTok that are more diverse pool of novels. When asked what they believe is of TikTok, Sunny says, “It’s a way to find new books. It’s a way to read more diverse books.”

in the responses from school leaders and adults about steps taken to prevent future shootings, it was an emphasis on security measures such as security cameras, metal detectors, staff entry and exit locations, and heightened screening of visitors. In most districts, these measures included hiring school security officers; in a few cases, school officials said they had partnerships with local law enforcement agencies. She said, “I believe that we need to change these practices for prevention situations.”

Even if they didn’t feel unsafe in their own schools, many students said they supported new laws or restrictions on gun ownership to prevent future shootings. Several students, for instance, called for raising the legal age to buy a rifle from 18 to 21 in all states, or restricting the number of weapons an individual can purchase in a single period of time.

Yet no matter how many metal detectors or security officers a school has, a few districts have used active-shooter drills they had experienced, some students who answered the survey expressed concerns about their own safety. Olivia, a 17-year-old student in Pennsylvania, said “no matter how much more mental health services they had, the adults in our school would not do anything to prevent the lockdown of gun past the shootings that have happened.”

Education a Main Focus for Mayfield

Towards his main platform priority, school choice. He firmly believes in school choice because this is such an important matter that is close to his heart. He experi-enced the inability to choose where to go to school, and he wants other students to have the same opportunity.

The students interviewed by PSJ expressed a dis-satisfaction with the current state of their schools and how this can have negative impacts on their mental health. The students also emphasized the importance of having a choice in their education, especially for those who have experienced adverse childhood experiences. On March 13, 2020, as we know it was suspected we were in the midst of the outbreak of COVID-19, a pause of educational enrichment for students and educators appeared. Not only lesson plans were shifted online, but what was previously face-to-face learning was unattainable.

Before the pandemic, the professor had the ability to engage all students in-person and the rest of the country further extended to access to learning. The National Cancer Institute also states that breast and cervical cancers are in direct correlation with the number of children who have breast cancer. Body trends not to go

By Yanita Gifford

It’s no secret that the more beautiful you are, the more you are often expected to look. Beauty standards are constantly evolving and changing right in front of our eyes. While social media and the modern age have given many people the platform to express themselves, there are still those who struggle with being accepted by society.

TikTok is a popular app that has taken over the modern world. It is a place where users can express themselves in a variety of ways, including through music, dance, and lip-syncing. It is also a place where users can find new friends and connect with people from all over the world.

With TikTok, it is possible for people to share their thoughts and ideas with others in a way that they may not have been able to do before. This has led to the creation of new trends and memes that have been shared by millions of people across the globe. However, not all of these trends are positive.

Enough Cultural Appropriation on TikTok

By Amy Wills

Malibu, OF

A recent trend on TikTok is cultural appropriation. Many users are taking material from other cultures and using it for their own personal benefit. This is a serious issue that needs to be addressed.

TikTok has faced criticism for not doing enough to prevent cultural appropriation. The platform has been accused of allowing users to share content that is offensive and harmful to others.

The site has since taken steps to address this issue, including adding more resources for users to learn about cultural appropriation and moderating content that is deemed offensive.

The community has responded with a backlash, however, and many users are still sharing content that is harmful.

The cover art for this song is a traditional image of a young woman in a traditional dress. It is meant to represent the cultural appropriation that is happening on TikTok. The words “Enough Cultural Appropriation on TikTok” are written in bold letters over the image.

The song is a powerful statement against cultural appropriation on TikTok. It is calling for users to be more mindful of the impact that their content can have on others and to be more respectful of the cultures that are being appropriated.

The song is a call to action for all users on TikTok. It is asking them to consider the consequences of their actions and to think about how their content can affect others. It is a reminder that everyone has the power to make a difference and that we all have a responsibility to be responsible for the impact that our actions can have on others.

This sort of suffering is typical in zoos with minimal living conditions and financial resources. These animals live out their lives without knowing what a true home could be. Many animals in zoos do not feel belonging. In captivity, there are ways for consumers to reduce harm in visiting these businesses. For decades, our county’s armed forces have sustained themselves solely on the backs of small businesses and their owners. Unfortunately, this tradition is coming to an end. Many old soldiers are finding it difficult to adjust to civilian life. While some may thrive in the current environment, many others are struggling to make ends meet. The NCLB act served as a way to supply the needs of these veterans by creating a system of grants and scholarships. The NCCL act is a critical aspect of our current education system. It ensures that students have access to high-quality education and provides support for low-income students. Critics of the military, including myself, believe that the NCLB act has failed to achieve its intended goals. The act’s focus on testing and standardized assessments has had a negative impact on students, especially those from low-income families. The NCLB act has also been criticized for not adequately addressing the specific needs of these students.

It's time for a #ARMY community to say ‘Bye to Normalized Biphobia in Media’

By Dayanara Urbina
Los Angeles, CA

Biphobia is often misunderstood and ambiguous concept that carries preconceived ideas within the LGBTQ+ community. In a succinct definition, biphobia is a double or dichotomous attitude towards bisexual people, for example, thinking they are merely transitioning to another sexuality or that bisexual people are not as ‘true’ as other sexual orientations.

Biphobia is real and genuine. It is present within the LGBTQ+ community and is a reality for bisexual individuals. The impact of biphobia is detrimental and can lead to feelings of isolation, shame, and self-hate.

Biphobic behavior can manifest in various forms, such as dismissing bisexual identities, denying bisexuality as a legitimate form of attraction, or spreading harmful stereotypes about bisexual people. These actions can lead to a lack of acceptance and understanding within the LGBTQ+ community.

It is crucial for the community to recognize and address biphobia, fostering an inclusive and supportive environment for all sexual orientations. By speaking out against biphobic attitudes, we can create a safer and more accepting space for everyone.
